BIG FIGHT WILL BE AT SALT LAKE

Boston, Dec. 9.—"The Jeffries and Johnson bout will be held in Salt Lake City, and it will be no fake," was Tex Rickard's positive declaration here today. "I am sick of this fake talk," continued Rickard, "and I will give anyone $5,000 if they will show me anything crooked in the arrangements. I knew the day before the bids were opened that Johnson would stand by me and that Jeffries would be with Jack Gleason, so we got to the ground and talked the matter over and came to an understanding. Coffroth told Gleason to go ahead and come in with me. That left Coffroth out of the whole affair, and I want the public to know he has nothing to do with it. "I will not have to fix any official in Salt Lake to pull the bout off there. Bankers, brokers and business men firmly want me to hold it there and have given me all the assurance necessary that it will not be interfered with. The Salt Palace, where the bout will be held, will, with some alterations, hold 30,000 people."

TOO MANY FAKES TO SUIT CROWD

New York, Dec. 9.—A series of spills tonight robbed Rutt and Clark and Root and Fogler of two hard-earned laps and slowed down the pace of the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden.

Under the rules a lap-four-fifths won counts for naught in a spill. It must be a full lap to count, and a distanced fall under, by falling, will rob the leader of his advantage. These spills brought forth cries of "fake" when these falls came too opportunely to please the crowd.

At 10 o'clock the sprinters had apparently given up trying to gain distance, and the score stood 1,832.3 miles for the leaders, as against 1,828.3 a year ago. At 10:30 there was a bad smash-up directly in front of the judges' stand, in which Pyle, Walther and West all went down in a heap. West was badly cut about the head and had several of his teeth knocked out, but pluckily got up again and rushed into the race.

Five minutes later Clark, of the reconstruction team of Clark and Rutt, shot out from the bunch in a furious sprint that lasted six minutes. When the riders strung out in file again it was found that the judges had awarded Clark and Rutt the lap they lost as a penalty for combining anew.

Hardly had the riders rested from the last sprint when another team, this time Stein and Hill, made a dash for a lost lap. They got it.

The old record for the 95th hour was 1,850 miles, made last year by McFarland and Moran.

The officials declared Frank Galvin out of the contest. His partner, Keegan, who is laid up with congestion of the lungs, was declared out of the race four hours previously, and Galvin could not get a partner within the time limit.

Rutt and Stol were also officially declared out of the race as a team. Stol's leg was in bad shape, and it was impossible for him to continue riding.

The MacFarland-Clark team was another of the leading combinations broken up during the morning. MacFarland suffered so much pain from a broken finger that he retired at 11:32 o'clock. This left his partner, Clark, free to form an alliance with Rutt, which left a partner less by the retirement of Stol.

NAPA NICK WINS
IN OAKLAND RACES

Oakland, Cal., Dec. 9.—Napa Nick won the Concord handicap at Emeryville today in clever style from Thistle Belle and Coppertown. Prejudice, a favorite, failed to show the speed he displayed in his last race.

A. M. Linnell, who has eleven horses at Juarez, wrote regarding stalls. He has jockeys Garner and B. Wilson in his employment. Summary:

RESULTS AT JUAREZ.

DISCUSS PLANS
AT CONVENTION

Washington, Dec. 9.—More than a dozen delegates to the convention of the National Rivers and Harbors congress, telling what they thought about the policy of improving the waterways of the United States and methods that should be pursued in bringing about the end desired by all, characterized the meeting of that organization today.

One of the strongest pleas for national improvement of the waterways was made by Secretary Nagel of the department of commerce and labor who declared that the nature of the interstate navigation made the national government responsible for providing suitable water courses for commerce. Neither private enterprise nor state appropriations could be permitted to improve these highways of the nation, he said, so that, if they were to be looked after at all, the general government must do it. Without making a distinct reference to the issuance of bonds for the work, he suggested that whatever was to be done should be accomplished in a way to insure the completion of a comprehensive project.

Moore Arouses Enthusiasm.

Representative J. Hampton Moore, president of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways convention, aroused unusual amount of enthusiasm. He showed how his association had been outstripped by the middle and far west in transportation facilities, which in the car shortage in 1906 and 1907 caused the people of the east to awaken to need of the inland passage along the Atlantic as a means of placing the industries there more nearly upon an equality with those of the middle west and of the Pacific coast.

One of the most interesting speakers of the day was Senator Burton of Ohio, who without taking issue with those who advocated a bond issue, reminded them that he had a couple of "don'ts" for them to remember. He admonished them not to allow any sectionalism to enter into their efforts for waterways.

Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations, suggested to the delegates the wisdom of providing in everything they should do that local communities to be benefited by waterways improvements should furnish suitable terminals.

TRUNK LINE GROUP
GENERALLY STRONG

New York, Dec. 9.—The reduction in the Bank of England's official discount rate today had a strengthening effect on the securities markets in all the great financial centers. The demand which carried prices upwards was somewhat desultory and spotty in character. Many stocks not usually prominent were embraced in the movement. The trunk line group generally was strong, the differential lines moving with the main trunk lines. The rise in the Rock Island stocks and in Wabash preferred gave a new lease on life to rumors of a combination of these lines with connection with the interest secured in Lehigh Valley by the Rock Island controlling factors.

Amalgamated Copper and other metal smelting industrialists responded to reports that preliminary details of the proposed copper merger were going forward once more. United States Steel moved narrowly and Regularly showed constraint in its action. An extra dividend by one of the leading copper producers was partly responsible for the strength in that group. The closing tone was strong after reaction.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, $4,464,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

FIRE DESTROYS
MUCH PROPERTY

Kalamazoo, Mich., Dec. 9.—One life probably was lost, many firemen were overcome by smoke, 300 hotel guests were driven, scantily-clad, into the icy streets and property valued at approximately $1,000,000 was destroyed by a fire which started here at 10 o'clock last night and was only extinguished after an all-night struggle by the combined fire fighting forces of Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, and Grand Rapids.

Starting in the basement of the Star Bargain House, a five and ten-cent store, at 118 West Main street, the flames, fanned by a strong south-west wind, spread eastward along the north side of Main street, totally destroying the Burdick house, a four-story hotel, and store and buildings, covering more than half a city block. On an arcade running north through the Burdick building to Water street were located half a dozen small commercial establishments and these were burned out. Sweeping eastward on Main street from the Burdick, the flames ate their way through the Postal Telegraph and American express offices and other smaller business places.

The flames made such rapid progress that it seemed probable that the local fire department would be unable to cope with the situation and aid was summoned from Battle Creek, 25 miles east, and Grand Rapids, 50 miles north.

Guests in the Burdick house were warned of their danger and hastily fled to the street, many of them scantily clad, and, as other hotels in the city were crowded, some of these persons were compelled to remain out in the biting cold several hours before finding shelter.

SHIP GOES DOWN AND FATE OF THE CREW IS UNKNOWN

New York, Dec. 9.—The British steamship Johanna, loaded with a cargo of sugar from Hilo, Philippine islands, for Philadelphia, sank at sea off Santo Domingo, according to a cable message received here from that island today. Captain Nickerson succeeded in saving himself, but the fate of the 25 men who composed the crew is unknown.

Probably it was a milk punch that the prohibitionists got in Alabama the other day.

NOBEL PRIZES TO BE DISTRIBUTED

London, Dec. 9.—This year's Nobel prizes of $40,000 each will be distributed as follows:

For physics, divided between Mr. Marconi and Prof. Ferdinand Braun of Strassburg; for chemistry, Prof. Wilhelm Ostwald, of Leipzig; for physiology or medicine, Prof. Theodore Koelker of Berne; for literature, Selma Lagerlof, the Swedish authoress.

The Nobel prizes are awarded annually to those persons who are considered to have conferred the greatest benefit on mankind during the preceding year, through the instrumentality of the subjects mentioned in the cable dispatches, with the addition of one for the best efforts towards the fraternity of nations and the promotion of peace. The recipient of the peace prize is not yet made known.

The source of the prizes, the Nobel foundation, was provided by the will of Dr. Alfred Bernhard Nobel, the Swedish engineer and chemist, who died in 1896.

FORESTS MAIN
GRAZING PLACE

Reports on the National Forest business for last year show that 4,449 cattle and horse permits, and 1,283 sheep permits were issued, allowing the grazing of 118,059 head of cattle, 6,799 horses, and 905,446 sheep, in Utah.

Accepting the last yearbook issued by the Department of Agriculture as an authority, this means that nearly twenty-nine per cent of all the cattle, over five per cent of all the horses and mules, and twenty-nine per cent of all the sheep owned in Utah on January 1, 1929, were provided with range upon the National Forests of this state during the period mentioned.

In connection with these privileges, other special uses of government land were allowed where such privileges were essential to a proper control of the stock, such as the enclosure of limited areas of land for pastures, the building of cabins, drift and division fences, corrals, excavation of stock tanks, and construction of reservoirs. Twenty-six such permits were issued during the year covering 2,565 acres of land, and the annual cost of the miles of right of way. The total number in effect is forty-eight, the area involved being 5,730 acres, and the rights of way eleven miles. Of these permits thirty-five were issued on the basis of a nominal rental for the use of the land, the remaining thirteen without charge.

The use of the range in the Manti forest is more complete and intensive than in any other National forest in the United States, and it is typical of the Utah forests. Consequently, the experimental work has been largely confined to this forest.

As a side issue the forest officers killed eight bear, one mountain lion, 331 coyotes and twenty-two wildcats. This number, while not large means a considerable reduction in the amount of stock destroyed by such animals, and helps compensate the stock owner for the fees paid by him for miles of right of way.

At present seven associations of stock growers are co-operating with the forest service in its administration of the forests as it affects their interests, but there is room for many more.

The chief problem that the Utah stock growers have had to meet is that of providing summer range for their stock. Of winter range Utah has an abundance, the large deserts alone being enough to support the sheep of the state in a normal winter. In addition, Utah is richly dotted with prosperous farming communities where the quantities of forage produced are often in excess of the demand than otherwise, and where in many cases the feeding of livestock affords the only means of disposal.

This condition created a keen demand for grazing lands, and the result was complicated by the strong competition between the stockowner who winter grazed his stock at points remote from the summer range, and the owner who winter fed his stock upon the products of his ranch adjacent to the summer grazing lands. The result was not hard to forecast. Ranges became poorer and less productive each year, stock deteriorated in weight and quality, and losses were heavier. This was the condition that existed when the National forests were placed under the present system of grazing control.

Extensive investigations are being conducted for the purpose of improving ranges by artificial and natural reseeded; to discover means of eradicating poisonous plants, or to prevent loss of stock. Forest officers are assailing the work of destructive predatory animals in localities where the loss of stock warrants such work. Range improvements are constructed wherever required to facilitate the handling of livestock or to protect forage. All of this work has tended toward a solution of Utah's chief grazing problem, and toward the

"HINKY-DINK" ORGY CAN NOT TAKE PLACE.

Chicago, Dec. 9.—Protests from clergy, civic organizations, charity workers and citizens, against the annual "First Ward Ball," which in other years has been described as an orgy, had no effect here today, when Alderman John Coughlin announced there would be no ball and that a concert would be given in its place next Monday night at the Coliseum. No drinking or dancing will be allowed at the concert.

Mayor Busse said today he had received letters threatening this his house would be blown up by a bomb if he did not prohibit the ball.

INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION FORMS LIVELY TOPIC AT CONVENTION

Washington, D. C., Dec. 9.—Industrial education, which formed a lively topic at the convention of the American Federation of Labor, is to be taken up with the national department of commerce and labor immediately it was announced today. As a result of the deliberation at Toronto, a committee was appointed, com-positioned to report on the subject of industrial education.

NEW OPERA HOOD.

A novel and attractive evening hood of dotted and spangled chiffon, with long tie and a huge rose with foliage on left side. These hoods are new and decidedly chic, and especially popular with women living in suburbs going to and fro in motor cars. They have several marked advantages over hats as they do not crush the hair, protect the head from wind, are comfortable, and in most cases give the wearer a youthful appearance.

WOMAN PROCLAIMS
HERSELF MURDERER

Provo, Dec. 9.—Brea hless after running two miles Mrs. C. C. Boom dashed in upon Marshal Henry East of Lehi late last night and excitedly proclaimed herself a murderer.

When the excitement subsided, she said that a man had come to her front door and demanded admission. While she was talking to him two or three others clamored for admission at the back door. They told her not to tell what they wanted and she feared they were robbers. To protect herself she seized a shotgun and fired both barrels at the group of men at the rear door.

One of the men gave a wild scream and Mrs. Boom decided that she had killed them. Without stopping to investigate she fled in terror to Lehi, two miles distant and told the officer she had killed the man.

Accompanied by a number of men from Lehi, Marshal East went to the scene of the shooting. There they found indications that the men had been there but there were no signs of any dead men and nothing to indicate that any one had been wounded. The investigation is being continued today.

Mr. Boom is employed at the sugar factory some distance away. On account of the distance from his home, he spends most of his time in a little house near the factory. The theory is that several men, knowing that the woman was alone, had gone to the home of Mrs. Boom for the purpose of robbery. It is believed that the effect of the shot was to frighten the men away and that none of them was wounded.

Mrs. Boom is a sister of Sam Lancaster, who was killed in a brawl last spring.

Arrangements have been made for a meeting of the administration officials and the federation committee Monday.

FAILS TO PROVIDE FOR HELPLESS CHILDREN

Salt Lake, Dec. 9.—The trial of Joseph E. Fowler, on a charge of failing to provide for his minor children, was commenced before Judge Bowman in probate court this morning.

The complaint alleges that Fowler has failed to provide for three minor children since last May. Mrs. Fowler, the mother of the children, is now an inmate of the state mental hospital, having been taken there a short time after the birth of her fourth child.

According to the testimony in the case this morning, the four children are now in the custody of relatives of the unfortunate woman. Fowler is represented by counsel, and it is understood that he will claim that he has provided for the children at all times.

The hearing occupied the entire time of Judge Bowman this morning and was continued until tomorrow.

DEMISE OF MRS. EARL SMITH AT CIRCLEVILLE

Circleville, Plute Co., Utah, Dec. 6.—On December 3 death again visited this little town, this time summoning Mrs. Valera Davenport Smith, wife of Earl Smith. Her aged father and mother, two brothers, two sisters, her husband and two small children are left to mourn her departure.

The cause of death was cancer. Mrs. Smith was one of God's noble women; had great faith in the gospel and was beloved by all. She was married on her birthday four years ago. The funeral services were held in the Latter-day Saints' church yesterday at 2 p. m. Bishop J. E. Peterson were the speakers. The singing was furnished by the ward choir.

Mrs. James Larabee is very ill. The smallpox has about subsided, although one new case is reported. A very disagreeable wind and snowstorm occurred yesterday. The weather of late has been very cold.

BRET HARTE'S DAUGHTER SUES HUSBY FOR DIVORCE

New York, Dec. 9.—Bret Harte's daughter, Jessamay, is suing her husband, Henry L. Steele, a wealthy Colorado mine owner, for divorce. When her case was called in Yonkers, N. Y. today, she told the court that her husband deserted her in Portland, Maine, and that she would have starved if it had not been for the generosity of an actress who gave her a benefit.

Jessamay Harte married eight years ago in Denver, when she was less than 18 years old, and lived happily with her husband, she says, for five years.
